Campbell Kid jumps to fame

Any gripes, kudos or ideas?
Call 378-9136 to sound off.

I've heard that there is a recall movement underway by one of the groups that opposed the West Valley College stadium. Is this true?

INTERESTED

Editor's note: The discussion of a possible recall movement for one or more of the present college trustees was one of the topics scheduled for discussion at Tuesday night's meeting of the West Valley Taxpayers and Environment Association meeting in Saratoga. According to a spokesman, the group is looking into the mechanics of a recall and had not made any decision as of last week.

I was blinded in a car accident two years ago and I just want to sound off about some of the things that have happened to me. An incident this morning made me think of calling. I just returned from a shopping trip to a Los Gatos clothing store and I had given them a list of what I needed. I paid for it all by the way. Well, I didn't get all the items I paid for and this isn't an unusual experience either. Until I learned to fold my money (so as to tell the $5 bills from the $10's and $20's) I used to hand taxi drivers a $20 bill and get change for a $5.

Since I've been blind I've learned there's a lot of nice people in this world and a lot of mean people too. Like the one's that purposely trip you and the one's that punch the elevator button for the fifth floor when you ask for the ninth. When I was first blinded it was horrible but now I'm beginning to get use to it but I've really learned about people; the nice ones ... and the mean.

CAMPBELLS' MADE national news again.

"The Campbell Kid," a dark frog contestant in the Frog Jumping Jubilee at Angel's Camp last weekend took first place in the media division (entered in the name of the Campbell PRESS) and placed eighth in the grand finals.

The Kid (with the name borrowed from the Campbell Kids of Little League fame), was among top winners receiving nationwide attention at the granddaddy of all frog jumps held in conjunction with the Calaveras County Fair.

Cindy Carpenter, 12, of 990 Linda dr., was the champion jockey for The Kid who won out over more than 2,000 of the leggy amphibians entered in the event. Just the weekend before that male frog took first place in the media division at the McHenry Village jump in Modesto with a leap of 15 feet, 8 inches.

Last weekend The Kid did even better. His 17 foot, 6 inch jump captured first place and the trophy for the media division while a 16 foot, 6¾ inch leap in the grand finals put him, and Cindy, in the money.

CINDY, A CAMPBELL Junior High School student, placed first in the junior division with "Bruce" who jumped 17 feet, 2 inches. In the finals she placed 18th with a 14 foot, 9½ inch jump.

Another local, John Holtz, 5208 Bobbie ave. in West San Jose, finished 13th in the grand finals with "Boogie Bopper" who registered 15 feet, 7 1-16 inches.

Mayor Bill Podgorsek's frog didn't do too well at Angel's Camp. He placed 6th in the mayor's division and out of the grand finals.

And Leland Blalock, Cindy's grandfather and the man who took about 50 entries to Angel's Camp came home with a "prize" of his own. His year's growth of beard was shaved on stage at Angel's Camp and he was presented a four foot trophy for making the poorest showing among frog jockeys in the finals.

LELAN, 1010 LINDA dr., says his frog's first two jumps were good but the last leap placed the creature back behind Leland, and behind the starting line for a jump of minus one foot.

The Campbell Kid and other frogs entered by Blalock were taken back to the spot they were captured at and released Monday.

This isn't the frog that took a first place at Angel's Camp last weekend. That croaker is back on his lily pad.

Corp hit a snag

A change in bingo rules

IN A FAST-PACED meeting Monday night the Campbell City Council voted to apply for $35,000 out of the county park override taxes for Los Gatos Creek Park, look into changing the local ordinance banning bingo games in light industrial areas, and heard a progress report on the downtown parking district.

Bill Billings, president of the Knight Raiders Drum and Bugle Corps, Inc., told councilmen that the youth organization had leased the old Campbell Moose Lodge on McGlincey lane in April for the purpose of holding weekly bingo games to raise funds for the group's summer tour. They ran into a snag when they were told, under local law, bingo games by non-profit organizations are only allowed in commercially zoned areas, Billings said.

AFTER A SHORT discussion, the Council directed City Attorney Bob Dempster to issue a permit to the group, providing they meet all other requirements, and that staff come back with an amendment to the ordinance at the next meeting allowing more flexibility.

The Corp now operates a once-a-week bingo game in Santa Clara.

Bill McLaughlin, co-owner of The Factory, told officials he had hoped to have the new petition for a modified parking district before the Council Monday. Instead, owners of The Bodega property plan to have their property surveyed prior to signing the agreement. The petition is expected to be presented at the next meeting, McLaughlin said.

INSTEAD OF HANDLING the entire downtown area, the new district would take care of the needs of just those two businesses with four areas of parking on about seven acres of land. Included in plans is a two-decker parking lot behind The Factory.

In other business the Council:

- Gave preliminary approval to spending $908 as the city's share of the Kids To Camp program. The county would donate $2,000, under a plan outlined by camp President Hank Rosendin, to send a minimum of 50 local needy youngsters to summer camp.

- Directed staff to take a look at some of the hundreds of projects being undertaken in other cities through federal Title VI funds to see if Campbell needs any of the additional $3 million in funding available countywide. Out of the 15 cities in the county, Campbell was the only city not requesting any funding under the special projects program.

CHP says we can go 90

COMMISSIONER Glen Craig of the California Highway Patrol said last week if motorists will start to "Think 90" that it might be easier for them to comply with the 55 mile per hour maximum speed limit.

Craig said when the United States starts converting to metric figures next year 90 kilometers per hour will be the equivalent of the present speed limit.

The commissioner said the Highway Patrol seeks broader commitment to the 55 mph compliance campaign being conducted throughout May.

"For those drivers who may not have responded to the 55 mph voluntary compliance campaign," Craig said, "we thought they might react favorably to the idea that they can drive 90 — kilometers per hour that is.

Craig added that the benefits are identical. "At 55 mph or 90 kph, the life-saving and fuel conservation advantages are the same."

Lightest ever

RUNOFF this year in California's great Central Valley will probably be the lightest in recorded history, the State Drought Information Center reports in its latest bulletin.

Runoff was the lightest on record at all Central Valley measuring stations, the Department of Water Resources snow survey branch reported in its final forecast for the water year (Oct. 1, 1976 to Sept. 30, 1977).

Major river basins, with their percentage of average runoff, included the Sacramento (above Bend Bridge) 36 per cent; Feather 21 per cent; Yuba 13 per cent; American 12 per cent; Cosumnes 4 per cent; Mokelumne 13 per cent; Stanislaus 15 per cent; Tuolumne 15 per cent; Merced 13 per cent; San Joaquin 17 per cent; Kings 19 per cent; Kaweah 18 per cent; Tule 11 per cent; and Kern 25 per cent.

Despite rains for the last two weeks, water levels at Shasta, Oroville and Millerton (Friant) reservoirs were slightly less today than on April 25. Folsom Lake showed a gain of 2,200 acre-feet.

The State Office of Emergency Services is preparing a series of 11 workshops around the state to deal with developing and operating local water conservation and community water management programs.

Title VI

Funds available for local groups

LOCAL GROUPS who want a piece of the $3 million federal Title VI pie have six days left to come up with a proposal, Councilman Rusty Hammer announced Monday.

Earlier the Santa Clara Valley Employment and Training Board allocated close to $15 million for new projects aimed at helping the unemployment problem. And they'd learned there's another $3 million where that came from still to be allocated.

Campbell was left at the starting gate on the race to qualify for some of that original funding. The city itself asked for no funding and one locally-based group, the West Valley Chicano Neighborhood Enterprises, Inc., asked for $140,000 and got $60,000.

DEADLINE FOR submitted additional proposals was line, accompanied with a cover letter from Campbell.

Criteria for funding is broad but generally, it must be for new programs or projects which need funding for 10 months or less. Both trained and trainee personnel can be set for today, May 25 but Hammer announced Monday that cut-off date has been extended to Wednesday, June 1.

Any group or organization with a plan though will have to get it to the City Manager's office by Tuesday morning, May 31, so the city can submit it to the Board by the dead-obtained through the Title VI program (see related article).

EXAMPLES OF programs funded in other cities and the county range from public works projects, recreation programs and refurbishing school sites, to historical studies, staffers and public relations specialists to non-profit community groups.

For more information on submitting proposals, and requirements, call the City Manager's office weekdays at 378-8141.

A sample

Here's those funded so far

The city of Santa Clara will get $4,010 to paint its traffic signal heads and control cabinets and the San Jose Civic Light Opera Association gets $14,000 for an audience development program under the hefty Title VI federal funds being channeled into this county.

A look at the hundreds of city and club projects given the tentative stamp of approval by the Santa Clara Valley Employment and Training Board gives an idea of what the close to $15 million in funding will bring to the community.

o Palo Alto gets $24,900 for a golf course renovation crew.

o Gay Community of Concern, Inc. gets $47,600 for a new gay support resource agency.

o Cupertino gets $7,050 for a hillside fire reduction program.

o The county library system gets $224,351 for 32 staffers to do a complete inventory.

o $14,400 goes to the Senior Coordinating Council of Los Gatos for a nursing home ombudsman pilot program.

o The American G. I. Forum is tagged for $45,207 for a discharge upgrade project.

o Mt. View will get $22,866 to fund an oral history project.

o The Council on Aging is down for $7,000 for motivational communication.

o Alum Rock elementary school district gets $42,228 for Operation NEAT.

o The local Girl Scout Council is up for $6,500 to work on college credit for girl scout volunteers.

o Garden City Women's Club will be doing an oral history of black Americans in the county for $30,272.

o Economic and Social Opportunities gets $41,602 for a water conservation project.

o Moreland School District is up for $33,915 for restoration of turf areas.

o The Mexican-American Chamber of Commerce will conduct a $35,417 survey of business and business problems.

o Saratoga Community Garden, Inc. will get $12,545 for their project.

o West Valley College is up for $54,386 for a community health worker placement project.

o Santa Clara gets $15,760 for an ombudsman program.

o The County Health Department will get $21,257 for gonorrhea control in private patients and their contacts.

o Cupertino is tagged for $3,332 for historic building restoration.

o Cupertino Union School District gets $6,670 for preservation of school bus exteriors.

o Gilroy will operate a teen-youth program for $15,908.

Former schools chief takes Morgan Hill post

Jim D'Avis will leave the Campbell elementary district next Wednesday, June 1 to accept a position with the Morgan Hill Unified School District.

The former schools superintendent, who resigned last year, will serve as Administrative Assistant for School Planning and Construction in that fast growing south county school district.

D'Avis, who served in the local district for 25 years, stepped down April 15 as superintendent after the appointment of Walt Hauss as the new schools chief.

Another local school administrator, Lee Cunningham, dean of students at Campbell High School, will also be resigning to accept a position in the Morgan Hill district. She's been hired as the Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent in charge of personnel, negotiations and public relations.

With the Campbell Union High School District for six years, Cunningham was a speech teacher at Blackford and Prospect high schools before appointed dean at Campbell.

Her resignation will be effective July 1.

Originally, D'Avis submitted his resignation effective June 30 but, after a discussion with Hauss, that was moved up to June 1.

D'Avis's job, since April 15, has been assisting the superintendent in his adjustment to duties in his new post.

"It will be difficult to leave the friendships that have been built up through almost 25 years of working in Campbell," D'Avis said in a letter to district employees last week. "I will continue to live in the Campbell School District and thus be able to keep in contact with the district."

Brontosaurus at the park

Kiddies will soon have a dinosaur to climb on at Campbell Park if the Parks and Recreation Commission has their way.

Last week the Commission voted unanimously to recommend the play structure creature, at a price tag of $990, to the City Council.

They also recommended that the Campbell ave. at Gilman park be evaluated in the future for additional play equipment.

For months there's been a bare spot in the heart of the park. The old Air Force training jet, which had served as play equipment for years, had to be removed late last year after it was declared a hazard due to sharp metal edges.

Stadium issue

IN A SURPRISE move last Thursday night West Valley College District trustees voted to rescind an earlier vote exempting the College from the 1967 use permit with the city of Saratoga. That vote to exempt centered around plans for a lighted stadium on the Saratoga campus and has been the central issue in a heated battle by opposing groups and individuals. The vote to rescind was 6-1 with Trustee William (Ben) Gould opposed.

Following the vote, Trustee Donald Lindstrom asked district architects to draw up modified plans for 3,500 seats at the facility (original plans called for 5,000).

"I'm not hung up on lights, a press box or vending

Trustees do an about face areas," Lindstrom added, "but we have an unsafe facility as far as spectators are concerned and I would like to see some type of seating out there."

That vote passed 5-2 with Trustees John Cantlen and Foster Lopes opposed.

Cantlen said he voted against the motion because he didn't want to expend more district funds until the board had a chance to meet with Saratoga city council members.

Carol LaMarre, who was elected with Cantlen and Lopes in March after a hard-fought campaign which centered on opposition to stadium plans, paused before voting in favor of the motion. She voted yes, La Marre said, "because of Mr. Beyer's recommendation."

Robert Beyer, Saratoga city manager, had earlier written a letter asking the board to rescind their exemption vote and commended trustees for their action Thursday. He also suggested it would be a good idea for the District to have some definite plans to discuss with city officials.

Preliminary modified plans for the stadium facility are expected back before the board by late summer.

A second controversial issue at last week's marathon meeting which adjourned at 2 a.m., was with the involuntary transfer of six faculty members from West Valley to Mission College.

The board took no action on the transfers but referred the recently adopted transfer policy back to the Academic Senate, originators of the policy. Lindstrom moved it be sent back and that, "the transfer policy should be brought into concurrence with the district's affirmative action goals."

The board also asked the Academic Senate to meet with representatives of the Fair Employment Practices Commission and the county Human Relations Commission.

The new transfer policy is based on reverse seniority and opponents say it will destroy special minority and women's programs at West Valley since instructors and advisors, are, generally, among faculty members with little seniority.

Little interest

THE MENTALLY Gifted Minors program (MGM) won't be offered in Campbell high schools this fall due to popular demand.

According to district spokesmen, many students were disenchanted with the program. At Campbell high school for instance, where more than 50 could qualify for the accelerated course, just 14 signed up this year.

A second, important, factor in the decision to drop the special program was a recent state edict which cut back funding on the program by 25 per cent.

This fall the emphasis will be on enrichment classes, for the gifted and those with high skills, and advanced placement (on the college level) for seniors who have completed all courses available through the high school program.

ACCORDING TO Agnes Valdez, director of education at Campbell high, students in advanced math, social studies and English classes will be bussed to schools where college-level courses are offered. Calculus will be

For those in ninth through eleventh grades, the enrichment program will be special assignments worked out between student and teacher in each course.

Work underway soon on the second loop

Work on the north loop street (Civic Center drive) should be underway by Tuesday, May 31 or sooner, according to Dave Valkenaar, project engineer.

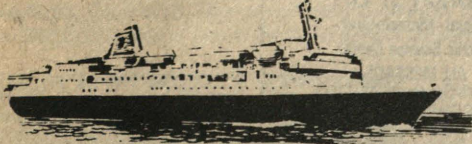

Zipse Paving Company, Inc. was the successful bidder on the second loop street project, due for completion on or before Oct. 31.

Construction will begin at the east end of the loop street, near Foote st. and proceed west, according to Valkenaar.

Along with the project, Zipse will also be closing off Central ave., south of the library driveway and will be installing beach pebble sidewalks connecting the City Hall and library property. Grading and turfing of the closed-off street area is not part of the project, Valkenaar said, and will be done at a later date.

Notices will be going out soon to residents and business owners in the area regarding street closures during the project.

Firing needs clear explanation

EDITOR:

The recent firing of two journalism instructors at West Valley College, apparently without due process, coming in the midst of ongoing investigative reporting by student reporters of alleged administration irregularities, certainly smacks of press censorship and retribution against faculty members. The WVC administration owes it to itself as well as to the students, faculty and public to give an immediate and clear explanation. If it is not forthcoming the Board of Trustees should demand one without delay.

Editor's note: West Valley Community College District Superintendent James Hardy had this to say in rebuttal: "The writer is referring to a potential change in the journalism department and those decisions are made by the department and division and whatever they decide is what will be. There is no administrative interference in the assignment of faculty."

The PRESS recently reported that I was opposed to the location of the CET (job training center) in Campbell. That's not true. What happened was that I requested a study of the need for such a center here. My concern has been with non-duplication of services in this area.

Rusty Hammer,
city councilman

Editor's note: Just about everyone concerned, including the PRESS, attributed your action regarding the local CET proposal to be located in a shopping center on San Tomas Aquino rd. as opposition to, or at least concern over the need for such a program. Shortly after the proposal was submitted to the Planning Commission you requested a needs assessment study to be conducted by staffers of the Santa Clara Valley Employment and Training

Board (where you serve as one of the directors). That assessment concluded, "It is more efficient to operate a recruitment and referral center, such as the SER Campbell office, rather than to open an additional TRAINING (sic) center as proposed by CET." We believe that study was in error since it considered the needs of the city of Campbell, instead of the entire West Valley area which CET planned to serve (and which SER now serves). In any event, the lease proposal between CET and the shopping center owners has since been dropped. And we share your concern over non-duplication of services. Now, in many areas, two or more agencies (both funded by the Board) are, in effect, competing over the same unemployed worker. We feel it would be more efficient to map out the county into several service center areas and then specify which agencies should be operating in these areas.

A giant water project we don't need

ON THE SURFACE, Measure H (on the May 31 ballot) appears to be simply a $56 million bond issue to expand water treatment and distributions facilities in Santa Clara county. But when you peel off the elaborate packaging, this is really a referendum on the San Felipe water project.

We think that's a good reason for voting no. The way we read Measure H, a yes vote will signal the Santa Clara Valley Water District that we want the giant San Felipe scheme to go ahead. Almost everything in this bond issue is tied to San Felipe in some way. And both the state and the federal government look at this vote as an essential display of public support for San Felipe.

This would usually be apparent at first glance on a ballot measure. But the Santa Clara Valley Water District has been doing a lot of fancy work with figures and a public relations snow job to obscure the real meaning of Measure H.

They've talked about water reclamation, though there is no water reclamation project which would get money from this bond issue.

They've talked about water conservation, though the figures they use to justify San Felipe suggest they don't believe conservation works.

San Felipe is one small part of the Central Valley project, a mammoth water importation scheme run by the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation. If built, San Felipe would bring about 145,000 acre feet of water per year from storage in San Luis reservoir into Santa Clara county. A smaller amount would go to San Benito county.

We oppose San Felipe for three reasons:

- 1) It has never been justified
- 2) It will cost an enormous amount of money which we in Santa Clara county must pay.
- 3) There are easy alternatives which cost less money and would be better for the county in the long run.

OUR FIRST objection to San Felipe is that no one has ever faced up to the simple question: "Do we need this?" Not Congress, where approving pork barrel public works projects is part of the courtesies one Congressman extends to another. Not the Bureau of Reclamation, which spends its time trying to justify the schemes it invents. And certainly not the Santa Clara Valley Water District, which made its decision to go after this project years before it did any analysis of its effects.

The second objection is its huge cost. The federal government will loan us the nearly $300 million it will cost to build the pipeline and other facilities which will bring San Felipe to the county's edge. Then we have to pay the money back, plus interest and other costs.

The total cost for all this will be close to $1 billion — a fact even water district director Robert Sapp admitted. Based on the current population of the county, that's $60 more per household per year for water for the next 50 years!

And it could even be more if the Bureau of Reclamation decides to make changes in the way it divides costs among its water customers.

The third and best reason for opposing San Felipe is that we don't need it. There are other alternatives which cost far less.

Currently, the water used in the county totals about 400,000 acre feet per year. San Felipe, if built, would bring in about 145,000 acre feet more per year.

IT'S PRETTY EASY to come up with that much additional water, without paying for San Felipe:

• 80,000 feet from water conservation. Most experts agree we can cut average household water use 20 per cent with no change in our lifestyle. And that seems pretty believable conserving efforts around the county. In some areas, water consumption is down 50 per cent over last year.

• 18,000 acre feet additional from the South Bay Aqueduct. The maximum allotment we will be entitled to is 118,000 acre feet per year. But last year we took 100,000 — so at least 18,000 additional acre feet in surplus water is available.

• 10,000 acre feet from water reclamation projects which are planned whether or not San Felipe is built and whether or not Measure H passes.

• 20,000 acre feet per year for intensive operation and maintenance of existing water district facilities. That figure is extrapolated from the district's own study.

Those four factors would mean almost an additional 130,000 acre feet per year, with almost no new capital costs and only modest increases in maintenance costs. With that much water, plus water-saving appliances, changes in the plumbing codes and a host of other things, who needs San Felipe?

AS FOR THE bond issue itself, its main purpose is to link us to San Felipe. The bulk of the money ($30 million from the bond issue) would go for two pipelines connecting San Felipe to the rest of Santa Clara county. If we don't need San Felipe, then we don't need those pipelines.

As for the other projects in the bond issue, there are a few which have merit — the Milpitas pipeline and the West pipeline extension, for instance. These pipeline projects would serve the useful purpose of connecting the valley's water supplies, insuring that should one city be faced with a shortage additional water could efficiently be brought in. We could build those from the district's huge construction reserve or with a much smaller bond issue.

Where does a defeat of Measure H leave water reclamation? Exactly where it is now. The district never planned to spend one cent from the bond issue on its three experimental water reclamation plants. Palo Alto (which is operating now), Gilroy and Milpitas are to be operated primarily by state and federal grants.

Unlike San Felipe, the money we get for water reclamation plants is a gift. It would be a good idea for the water district to seek out more of this reclamation money.

One other issue the supporters of Measure H have tried to tie into this campaign is the drought. They say San Felipe would help us in dry years. But they fail to mention that the Bureau of Reclamation is cutting back all over the Central Valley Project in this dry year. And when rainfall is low, San Felipe would also have less water.

Our alternative plan doesn't have those problems, because it relies primarily on our own resources.

If we can defeat this bond issue, San Felipe will fall with it. The state, the federal government and even the water district see this election as crucial for San Felipe to go ahead. A no vote on Measure H will put an end to this boondoggle once and for all.

Vote No on H in the Tuesday, May 31 election.

Smoke alarmsSmoke can kill says fire chief as he launches safety campaign

THREE CHILDREN and one adult died in a fire in a Linda drive home here several years ago. And, according to Battalion Chief Sal Leonardi, that tragedy might have been averted if the family had a smoke alarm system.

Starting next week local fire fighters will begin a house to house campaign to alert residents to the danger of smoke in house fires and to hand out a list of local firms which sell smoke alarms.

In the Campbell fire, which claimed four lives, it wasn't the flames which took the toll, it was smoke. Two teenagers in that home tried to escape but collapsed in the hallway from smoke inhalation.

During 1976 more than 10,000 people in the United States lost their lives due to fire, according to Fire Chief Gene Borden.

"Very few of those people died from direct contact with flame. It was the smoke, toxic gases, and super heated air that killed them."

THE DOOR-TO-DOOR campaign begins June 1 and by September 1 will have covered the 5,400 single family homes in Campbell. Regular fire department personnel will be out knocking on doors weekdays, except Wednesdays, after 10 a.m. and the fire explorer post will be working weekends.

New homes are already required to install smoke alarm systems and state legislation is now being considered that would require installation when a house is sold or when major improvements are made.

"With the turnover of homes now," Leonardi commented Friday, "most would be protected within five years if that law takes effect."

But for now the Campbell Fire Department is counting on voluntary compliance with the safety measure. And their goals is to persuade more than 50 per cent of the homeowners in Campbell to install these devices which retail for between $29 and $50.

"WE'RE NOT selling anything," Leonardi was quick to point out. Instead, a list of seven local stores which stock smoke alarms has been compiled by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and will be left with each homeowner. It will be up to residents to shop for the best prices. Stores listed include Winchester Hardware, Sav-On Drugs, Kirkwood Hardware, Campbell Lumber, McKinley-Young Electric, Longs Drugs and Kesslers.

"The alarms are not intended to be a cure all for all (fire dangers)," declared Leonardi. But what they can do is alert people during the most hours when most home fire fatalities occur, between 1 and 5 a.m.

While smoke alarm systems differ, most will alert the residents with a shrill noise when the smoke content of the room gets above two per cent. Placement of the alarms is important to insure a pan boiling over on the stove won't set it off, or a fire in the fireplace.

IN A RECENT early morning blaze in a local home, the fire alarm sounded when about two feet of smoke filled the room. Since smoke rises, that alarm went off long before the deadly smoke could settle near the sleeping residents.

Local fire fighters request that any homeowner installing a smoke alarm, through either the alert program or on their own, contact the fire department. They'll provide assistance in installation and adjustment of the alarm and also plan to keep track of the number of alarms in local homes. Call 378-8146.

Fifty per cent is the target. One hundred per cent would be better.

People are buying a lot of furniture

Home furnishing and appliance sales in Campbell accounted for the largest share of the $57.8 million in taxable sales for the fourth quarter of 1976, a report by the state board of equalization shows.

Those stores racked up $12.4 in sales for the quarter, compared to $5.6 million in sales by eating and drinking establishments; the second highest ranking.

Other big ticket items in the sales tax field were: general merchandise, $4 million; building materials and farm equipment, $4.1 million and service stations, $4.2 million.

Campbell was well ahead of Santa Cruz in taxable sales for the final three months of 1976. That coastal city showed $50.5 million.

Comparable sized cities locally included Cupertino, $46.2 million; Milpitas, $19.3 million and Los Gatos, $31.6 million.

PLANS FOR A teenage nightclub on Campbell ave. near Railway were turned down last week by the city Planning Commission.

Main reason for the unanimous vote to deny Robert C. Firato's application was concern over traffic hazards in allowing a night spot at that location. Entrance and exit driveways would have been about 60 feet from a blind turn on the east end of Orchard City drive.

Firato had planned to convert two vacant businesses at 476 E. Campbell ave. into a teen discotheque featuring a resident disc jockey, game room and dance floor.

In recommending denial the planning staff noted, "After consulting with the Public Works Department, it is the staff's opinion that the existing location is very dangerous with regards to vehicular and pedestrian circulation for the proposed intensity of use for the building."

The Commission has requested the City Council to suggest alternative uses for the site, which is now zoned to allow night spots, restaurants and other intensive uses.

IN OTHER ACTION last week the Commission:

- Reaffirmed their recommendation for approval of Bob Raffanti's plans to move a residence from 235 Pine ave. to 106 E. Rincon ave. Originally the City Council sent the application back to the Commission because they were concerned about saving a large tree on the Rincon ave. parcel. The map was in error, though, and the tree is located on an adjoining parcel.

- Accepted a staff definition of "shopping center," to be added to the municipal code. The proposed description includes "A group, or cluster, of retail shops and offices," with a minimum area of three acres uninterrupted, abutting public streets on two sides which intersect at one corner of the center, having a minimum depth of 300 feet from any street and with office use incidental to retail use.

- Continued to the first meeting in August the public hearing on the future use of the old Campbell grammar school.

- Approved plans by Ralph Stepp to construct an office complex at 441 N. Central ave.

- Recommended approval of a zone change from duplex to planned development and plans to construct eight townhouses at 2560 Downing ave.

- RECOMMENDED approval of plans and a zone change from multiple family residential to planned development-high density residential for property at 60 Union ave. Applicant Simitar Venture II plans to construct 12 townhouse units.

- Continued to June 7 the hearing on the application by Vito F. Adragna and Acme Vending Company to construct two two-story mini-warehouses at 61 Dillon ave.

- Approved plans to construct a seven-unit apartment complex at 107 Shelley ave. by Carl S. Young and Demeter Builders.

- Recommended approval of Ray Murdock's plans to construct six single family homes at 491 Sunnybrook dr. This proposal also carries a zone change from single family residential to planned development-low density residential.

- Continued to the next meeting the application of R. J. Stedman to convert a warehouse into an industrial building at 240 Dillon ave.

Molly's missing and may be sick

A TRIP to the Humane Society to check into the spay and neuter clinic started a three-week search for her missing puppy by Louise Wollert of Campbell.

As she was standing in the main office a woman asked if she could hold Molly, a 3½ month old shepherd-husky mix, and then walked out the door with the pooch.

"I don't know if she misunderstood me and thought she could have the dog or purposely took it," Louise said last week. But, whatever the reason, Louise wants Molly back.

In addition to her attachment for the dog, who reminds her of the family pet who pulled her unconscious from a lake when she was nine, Louise is concerned over the dog's health and with anyone that comes in contact with Molly.

THE DOG may be suffering from hepatitis, Louise says. Molly's mother died from that disease and the pup was to visit the vet's office for a blood test the morning after she was taken from the shelter. The disease didn't cause any symptoms in the mother, Louise explained, until shortly before she died so Molly could be sick and in need of treatment and appear healthy.

The pooch "with beautiful blue eyes" is brown, beige and black and looks more shepherd than husky. She has a little white stripe down the middle of her muzzle and light fur on her feet.

Anyone with information about Molly can call Louise at 374-1261.

What building would you hate to see destroyed?

IF YOU KNOW of a special building or tree in Campbell that should be tagged "historical" the Civic Improvement Commission wants to hear from you.

An informal meeting has been set for Thursday, May 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Campbell Library Community Room to hear from citizens. The Commission wants suggestions as to what buildings, or features in the community are characterized by historical, cultural or architectural significance and, therefore, in need of preservation. Both public and private property will be considered.

At the last City Council session the Commission was given two directives; first, to study costs and details for setting up a local historical preservation program and, second, to identify any structures or features which may require immediate attention (example; an interim zone ordinance) to insure their preservation.

SO FAR SPECIAL attention has been directed towards the old Campbell grammar school at Winchester and Campbell ave. and to the old fire station on Central ave. The latter site, which was designated a point of historic interest by the State Historical Landmarks Commission, has tentatively been tagged for removal by the Council when a new fire station is built.

For more information, or to leave suggestions if you can't attend Thursdays meeting, contact the City Manager's office at 378-8141 before 5 p.m. Thursday.

Bronze bell brought back by local group

THE BELL'S BACK in town after a six year absence but Campbell Kiwanians didn't get exactly the welcome they expected when they went to retrieve it in Susanville.

Instead of the welcoming committee, locals got a good look at the inside of the county jail when the local judge, a member of the Susanville Kiwanis Club, had them detailed (Phil Baker "borrowed" the judge's name tag). But the whole thing was done in fun and Kiwanis club members were out of the "pokey" in minutes.

The bell, official symbol of the club, was stolen from the restaurant where the group use to meet. It was found recently in a field in Susanville, Lassen county, and the Under Sheriff (also a Kiwanian) told the local club they'd have to come up there to retrieve it.

IN THE DAY-LONG trek last week local Kiwanians were treated to a tour of the city, which boasts a population of about 7,000 and a new community college and an old saw mill as the main industry.

But the Campellites didn't come back with just the bell. Harry Mayfield sold 27 of the Kiwanis belt buckles (made by the local group) for $6 each to the northern California group, and they got their revenge. During the meeting the locals were sold scores of raffle tickets by the group in Susanville, only to be told later there was no prize being offered.

The group returned with their club bell plus one of two bells owned by the Susanville group who plan to retrieve it when they make a visit to Campbell sometime in the next several weeks.

ALONG WITH club members they plan to bring the Mayor of Susanville (who was billed as the second youngest Mayor in the state two years ago when Rusty Hammer was tagged the youngest), the Judge, Police Chief and the Under Sheriff.

According to former Kiwanis President Chuck Gates, almost all law enforcement and legal types in Susanville are members of their Kiwanis club; including the Sheriff, Police Chief, Judge, zone commander for the California Highway Patrol, assistant district attorneys and the local FBI agent.

Gates planned to meet with Chief Don Burr, a local Kiwanian to help prepare a special welcome for the group.

Educator honored with her own day

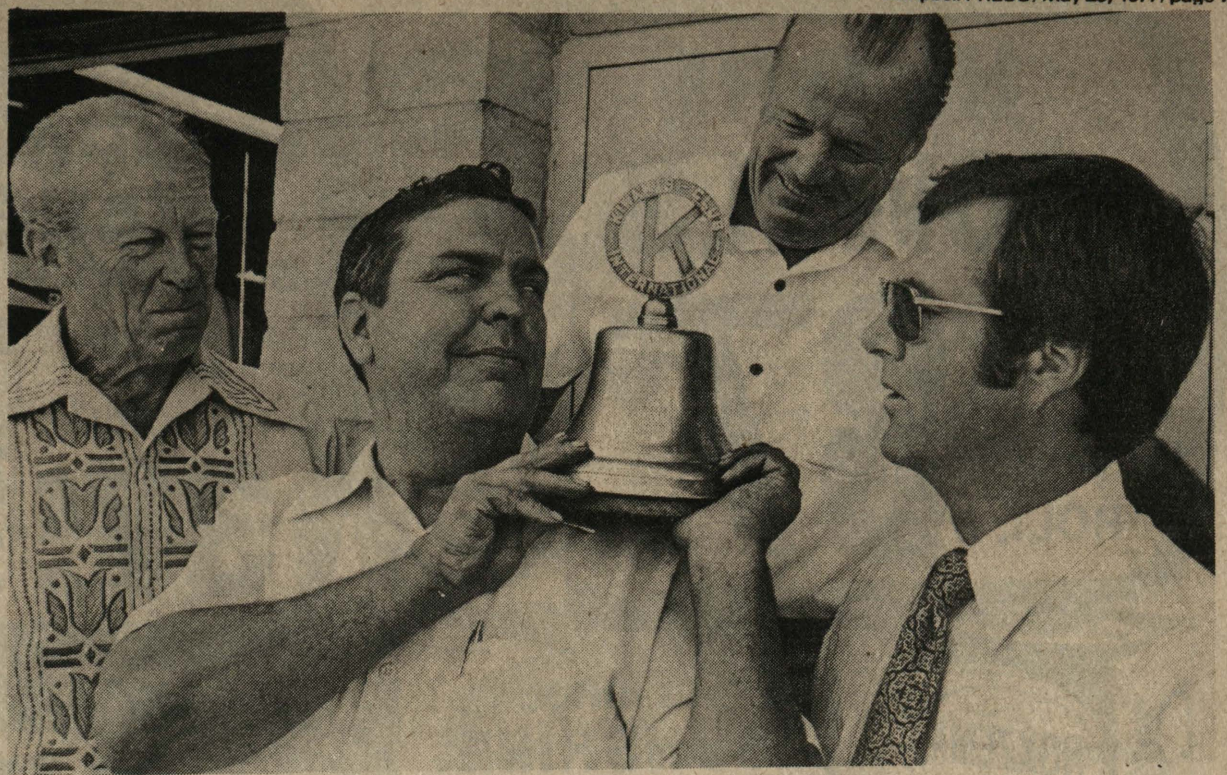

Last week was National Metric Week and City Hall abounds with national this or that month, day and week.

But Monday, May 23

was a special day with local significance. It was "Sister Rosalie Day," proclaimed by Mayor Bill Podgorssek in honor of Sister Rosalie Pizzo who has served as principal of St. Lucy's School for the past four years.

She's completing her final term with the local school this summer and will be leaving Campbell for another assignment this fall.

"Whereas, during her stay in Campbell Sister Rosalie has distinguished herself as an exemplary educational and religious leader of the community . . ." the proclamation reads in part. "I do hereby proclaim the day of Monday, May 23, 1977 as 'Sister Rosalie Day' within our city and urge all of our citizens to pay tribute to this distinguished educator.

BACK SAFE and sound in Campbell last week was the revered Kiwanis Club bell, which had been missing for six years. Members of the local group traveled to Susanville to recover it. Pictured, from left, are President Bill Cave, past president Chuck Gates, Harry Mayfield and Kim Kinney.

Water works wins rate increase

THE California Public Utilities Commission has approved a request by the San Jose Water Works to increase its rates for water service in Santa Clara County by $34,500 or 1.3 per cent, to offset increases in purchased electric power.

It was estimated that the utility's costs for electricity have increased by $336,500 or 17 per cent.

The San Jose Water Works provides service to about 163,000 customers in Santa Clara County. The monthly bill for a typical residential customer for 2,000 cubic feet will increase from $10.32 per month to $10.45. The new rates became effective May 21.

Seminar on energy alternatives

A TWO-DAY seminar representing an effort to pose alternatives to the energy crunch will be held at Stanford University June 4-5.

The seminar, co-sponsored by the non-profit Alternative Energy Educational Foundation and Stanford University's office of the dean of students and Terra House, will cover practical aspects of solar, wind and geothermal energy; mini-hydro electric energy; waste treatment systems; hydroponic gardening and the aquaculture of freshwater prawns, fish and edible aquatic plants.

The program will be held in Memorial Auditorium. Fee is $45. For more information phone 415-788-2045.

Red Cross seeking translators

IF YOU CAN speak more than one language, the Red Cross language bank needs you.

The language bank is a service in time of disaster for people who can't handle English. Volunteer translators are listed on a reserve bank and are contacted by telephone when a disaster situation develops. The translator doesn't leave home, he or she acts as the translator right on the spot. It's a 24 hour service, and disasters have a habit of happening at odd hours, but that's when your skills are most needed.

Individuals interested in making their translating skills available to the Red Cross language bank are urged to call 776-1500, Ext. 76.

May 28 Through June 3

ARIES (Mar. 21-April 19): Baffling circumstances continue as you seek for the meaning to "all this". Fate and the universe both turn slowly, my friend. Abide. By end of week pot begins to boil. In the meantime, muster a weak smile. It worked for Mona Lisa.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You are searching for space, Taurus; some outer and some inner. To help expedite your search you should get rid of excess baggage. But first, clear the exists! Full Moon does its usual mischief, but by end of week you calm considerly. Love beckons. Follow.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Music is playing just for you, Gem, and it sounds like a waltz. Romance can't come too often these days, Gem, so enjoy! Wear ribbons and bells. Buy roses. Week comes to an end on key of F, for fugue, fantasia, and fireworks!

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Some dull days ahead, Moonbaby, so dust off old habit and play the part. Rewards are worth it. Toe tapping allowed, however, and just may be signal someone is waiting for. End of week you should slip out of stuffy role and into something comfy.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Usually allowed to exit in your own little world, Leo, you discover this week that others want to rattle your cage. Ignoring these visitors from "outer space" will just put off confrontation until another day. Now is the hour. Deal. When all else fails, joker wins the game.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Star-studded week ahead, Virgo. Dreams come true. And then some. If you're tied up on home port, the world comes to you. Last day for running barefoot in the grass, on the beach or across your waterbed. Whatever's right.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Spring cleaning should be just about over, but go after remaining cobwebs with an iron broom. This week Libra, like attracts like, and spirits help spirits. Kindred soul seeks you out on last day and turns broom into wand.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Your health is highlighted. Stop all other projects and attend to it. Rest, fruit and simplicity will do wonders. TLC comes from unexpected source. Let someone else be boss this week Scorp. You need the rest.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Breaks fall your way this week, Sag. Take advantage of all offers. Something rather unexpected pans out. Inner voice guides you. Follow. You gain new insight into old, nagging problem. At last!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Sun warms Saturn as thoughts turn from divining the heavens to heaven knows what! You glow and go, Cap, but just keep earth shoes on for lengthy walks. On last night if you feel pinch (feet, pocket or whatever), just pitch your tent, light your Coleman lantern, and relax.

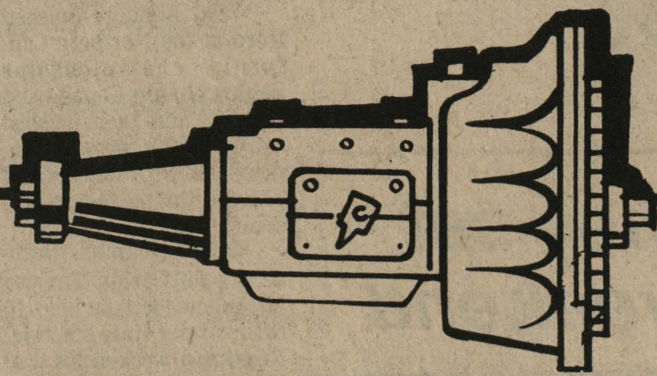

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your swan song may be turning into an opera, Aquari. Keep it short and sweet. Original plan you made to seek new horizons is in danger of getting lost in the proverbial shuffle. The goodbyes have been said. Now it's time to move into a lower key.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Old life style shifts to make room for new ideas. You feel the insistent push of change as fresh cycle begins. This is not a minor alteration, Pisces. What has been lost will be found. You'll see.

Campbell Mets remain unbeaten

By JEFF WAGNER

THE CAMPBELL, Moreland and West Valley Bobby Sox had things rolling again, as the wet weather was gone and the sun was back. The Bobby Soxers played some crucial games as the first half was coming to a close.

MORELAND

The first and the second place teams in the minors played in a low scoring, thrilling contest. The division leading Dodgers edged the number two Royals, 3-2. The game was tied for five innings until Dodger catcher Coleen Reilly knocked in the winning run. There were only nine hits in the game, five by the winning club.

Other minor games had the Dodgers again winning, this time 12-8 over the Pirates. The Royals held on to second place, winning by forfeit over the player-short Athletics.

The third place Tigers were upset by the fourth place Mets, 22-9, but came back to defeat the Pirates 16-13. Tiger first baseman Pam Lerwell was at bat five times, getting on base the same number. She ripped a home run.

CAMPBELL

The undefeated Mets remained undefeated as they edged the second place Pirates, 5-4. The Pirates were also undefeated before the loss. A last inning homer by Met pitcher Sheri Scadden ended the thriller. Tough defense by both teams

The winless Cardinals lost to the Dodgers 19-1, while the second place Pirates ripped the Giants, 19-5.

Of the twelve games played in the minors, five winning teams scored over 20 runs, while 10 scored over 15.

The first place Twins (6-2) won twice, 23-8 over the Indians and 15-4 over the Orioles to strengthen their lead. Homers by Lisa Baldwin and Cecilia O'Brian aided the victory. Kim Keith hit a homer for the Twins.

The third place White Sox won three straight games. The first being a 14-10 victory over the Indians. Number two was a tremendous 43-4 win over the Athletics while the third was a 21-7 upset win over the second place Royals. Homers by Inta Skrabbe and Sandy Alcina helped out in the win.

Del Mar batmen rewrite Don record book in '77

ADHERING to the belief that records were made to be broken, Del Mar's talented baseball team proceeded to break or tie 16 school records in 1977.

The Dons set new school team records for most runs scored in a season (170) and most hits in a season (253) while tying the seasonal team batting average record (.329).

Hard-hitting first baseman Dan "Yogi" Taylor led the assault on individual records, establishing four new marks.

Taylor snapped his own school records for most runs-batted-in (26) and clutch average (.710), in addition to erasing Steve Esau's school record for most walks (29) and clutch hits (22).

Clutch average refers to the number of times a player comes through with a hit when runners are in scoring position.

Eric Richesin set three records, most times on base (67), most hits (37) and most runs scored (27).

Richesin, Taylor and Tom "Doc" Medica all joined the elite 30 hit club. While Richesin was pounding out 37 hits for his new record, Taylor and Medica were each ripping 32. Taylor had 32 hits last year.

Rounding out the 30 hit club are Kent Ohmann, who had 33 hits in 1975, and Bill Hennessey, who had 31 hits in 1976.

MARK Intrieri tied Steve Esau's record for most triples in a season by belting three.

Intrieri, Rusconi and Medica belted two homers apiece to tie Steve Picone's 1974 record.

Del Mar coach Gary Cunningham had special words of praise for Medica, the Dons' classy third sacker for the past two seasons.

"He did a super job for us for two years," Cunningham said. "He was so consistent he went unnoticed. But he was our Mr. Clutch. We'll have a tough time trying to fill the void at third next year."

Jeff Blobaum rewrote three records in pitching with most wins in a season (10), most strike outs (74) and most saves (four). Blobaum also carved a brilliant 1.82 earned run average in 1977, but it was far from Esau's 1975 mark of 1.07.

Southpaw Tom Harris, meanwhile, broke Todd Martin's career record for

THERE aren't too many teams in the state better than the West Valley College tennis squad. But, unfortunately for the Vikings, the better teams hail from Northern California.

West Valley finished third at the Northern California championships behind champ Canada and Foothill and then finished third at the state championships with Canada and Foothill taking the top two spots.

Mark Friedman (Bucher) and Carlos Fuentes (Branham) led the Vikes to their strong state showing. Friedman worked his way to the quarter-finals in singles play and, along with Fuentes, reached the semi-finals in doubles action before losing 6-4, 6-4.

At NorCal, Friedman won a pair of matches to reach the quarter-finals and qualify for the state event. He and Fuentes also made it to the semi's before losing to the same Canada team that beat them at state.

Shozo Shiraishi (Saratoga resident) just missed qualifying for state when he lost in three sets a match before the quarter-finals.

Dave Smith also won a match for the Vikings at the NorCal tourney.

Ceynowa hurls third gem but suffers second loss

WEST VALLEY

The Cardinals continued to dominate the Major division of the West Valley Little League.

The Cards, thanks to superlative pitching and solid hitting, finished the first half with an unblemished 11-0 mark.

The Cards started the second half where they left off in the first half by notching a victory.

The Yanks rambled to the first half crown in the minor division, posting an impressive 10-1 record.

In the Senior National division, the Astros led the pack with an 8-0 mark with the Reds four games behind in second.

QUITO

The Phillies caught the slumping Rangers to wind up in a tie for the first half lead in the Quito Little League. Both the Rangers and the Phillies possessed 8-2 records.

Both clubs face tough games this week, the Phils taking on the Dodgers while the Rangers collide with the Tigers, who take a 6-4 record into the tilt.

For a pitcher who has hurled three consecutive no-hitters, Brad Ceynowa has little to show for his magnificent pitching performances in the Moreland Little League.

Ceynowa, despite not allowing a single hit in his last three games, has been betrayed by his defense and suffered a pair of losses to go with just one win.

Ceynowa's most recent no-hit loss came at the Bucs reach Region finals

The Campbell Buccaneers, seeking their 12th consecutive victory, battle either Santa Teresa of the Mt. Hamilton Athletic League or Willow Glen of the Santa Teresa Athletic League Friday evening at PAL Stadium in the finals of the Region III play-offs.

The Bucs drew a first round bye in the play-offs and will play the winner of Wednesday's Santa Teresa-Willow Glen tussle.

Campbell won the West Valley Athletic League title this year with a 14-2 record, finishing a game ahead of both Blackford and Del Mar.

Cubs nip Tigers in C-M Pony contest

By JOHN VAUGHN

THE CUBS' BILL Beck crossed home plate with the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning to edge the Tigers 4-3, during Campbell-Moreland Pony League play.

The Cubs found themselves behind going into the bottom of the seventh 3-2, but tied it up 3-3. Then, with Beck on base, John Murphy hit a grounder to the shortstop who bobbled it, enabling Beck to score the winning run.

On Saturday, the Dodgers edged the Yankees 2-1. Jeff Bacho singled in Dave Roberson for the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning.

The Mets nudged the Cardinals 1-0, on a suicide squeeze play by Mike Stouffer. Dave Jarvis was on base for the Mets when Stouffer bunted the ball, sending Jarvis home with the only run of the game.

The Cubs took the lead with a record of 8-2, followed by the Mets at 6-2-1, the Tigers, Yankees and A's at 6-4, the Giants at 5-3, the Dodgers at 3-5-1, and the Cardinals and Pirates at 1-9.

NORCAL CHAMP — Campbell high school product Steve Oravetz, shown here setting a national record, won the Northern California championship in the pole vault last week with a 17' effort. Later in the week Oravetz won the California Relays title in Modesto with a 17'1½" effort.

Silvas no-hitter keys action in Campbell LL

By JOHN VAUGHN

A NO HITTER pitched by Thomas Silvas showed the reason why D's Automotive is in first place in the Campbell Little League standings.

Silvas fanned 14 Willow Glen Optimist hitters as D's slid by Willow Glen 1-0. Robert Artery drove in the winning run for D's in the first inning.

Jim Logsdon's double scoring Paul Rabill, and Jim Kiles' single scoring Logsdon, enabled Robins to scoot past Fontanetti's, 2-0. Andy Nagengast received the win for Robins. Tom Gricious had the only hit for Fontanetti's.

Breuners routed Doetsch by the score of 3-1. Brueners highlighted the game with one run in the first inning followed by two in the fifth. Doetsch's only run came in the second inning.

D's Automotive still holds the lead in the standings with a 10-4 record. Brueners is 9-3; Fontanetti's is 6-5, Moose and Willow Glen Optimist are 6-7; Robins is 5-9; Campbell Plaza is 4-10 and Doetsch Building is 3-9.

Quality Vikings win invitational

THERE'S always strength in numbers. But the West Valley College women's gymnastic team proved that it's not just quantity that counts — it's quality!

And the "quality" Vikings wrapped up their season with an impressive showing at the Golden Valley League Invitational at Cosumnes River College in Sacramento.

The Vikes, with the fewest number of athletes in competition, finished third in the meet with 167.00 team points behind American River at 229.70 and Cosumnes at 204.85.

West Valley finished first in the intermediate division behind the efforts of Leslie Peckham (Campbell), Marcia Volstorff (Los Gatos) and Mary Volstorff (Los Gatos). The three combined for 71.55 points to outclass the six other teams in the field.

Shauna White (Los Gatos) was the all-around winner in the beginning division, placing in three other events as well. Kim Smith (Prospect) was second in the beginning vault.

Sue Scherf (Saratoga) placed in four events to nail a second place finish in the novice all-around for the Vikes. Linda Moe was fourth on the balance beam and Stephanie Uribe also performed well for WVC.

Oravetz nabs NorCal pole vault crown

WHEN THE 1977 track season began, Steve Oravetz of West Valley College was a solid 16' pole vaulter.

Well, three months, a National record and another foot later, Oravetz is a Northern California champion!

Oravetz (Campbell) soared 17' for a first place and a new NorCal meet record last weekend for West Valley at the championship meet at Diablo Valley College in Concord.

Oravetz helped West Valley to a 12th place team finish in the Northern California meet with his individual win.

Jerry Mulligan picked up a fourth in the vault for WVC with a lifetime best 15'6" and Bob Paulin (Camden) was fifth in the 10,000 meters.

Oravetz, who held the National JC record in the event for a few weeks this season, will attempt to get back his mark this week when he goes head-to-head with record-holder Charlie Brown of El Camino at the state championships in Bakersfield.

Brown, who broke Oravetz' record of 17'1", holds the National JC standard in the event at 17'4".

A DAY AFTER winning the NorCal title in the vault, Oravetz won the event in the open division at the California Relays. The Viking was competing against a stiff field at the meet in Modesto, including a medal winner from the 1976 Olympic Games.

Oravetz recorded his lifetime best at the California Relays, flying 17'1½" for first place. He also had a close miss at 17'4¾".

"It was good to see him make 17' two days in a row," said Viking coach Bill Campbell of his prize vaulter. "He's getting consistent and gaining a lot of confidence at 17' now."

Oravetz will go head-to-head with Brown this weekend and will get another crack at the National record on June 10-11 at the National AAU championships at UCLA.

Viking women nail softball crown

TITLES HAVE been anything but plentiful in the 1976-77 school year for West Valley College sports teams.

But the West Valley women's softball squad came through last week to make sure the Vikings didn't suffer a spring title drought when the orange and blue won a pair of games to clinch the Bay Area Collegiate Association of Women's Athletics championship.

Playing at Willow Pass field in Concord, the Vikings knocked off San Mateo and Ohlone in the BACAWA play-offs to secure the crown.

West Valley won the title with an exciting 7-4 victory over Ohlone in the final game.

"It was a complete team effort," said Viking coach Les Hearn of his club. "The girls did a good job of running and bunting. They were really up for the game."

Sue Kinsell (Camden) was cruising along with a 7-1 lead for WVC against Ohlone before she ran into control trouble in the fifth. She was touched for a run in the frame and then was chased from the mound with one out in the sixth after walking in two more runs to make it 7-4.

JANET HELDT (Westmont), who had tossed the Viking win a day earlier in their Mulligan will join Oravetz at the state meet this week, competing in the same event.

"He's coming off of his best effort and he's been looking very good," said Campbell of Mulligan. "The way I see it, there are two guys he has to beat to place and I think he's got a good shot at doing it."

After Oravetz and Mulligan compete in the state track and field championships this weekend in Bakersfield, West Valley's Wayne Gray (Campbell) will take part in the state decathlon championships on June 3 and 4 in Santa Maria.

Baxter, Los Gatos pace West Valley golfers

VINCE Baxter led the Los Gatos high school golf team to the West Valley Athletic League title this spring and capped his fine league season with an individual title at the recent WVLA championships at Riverside and Santa Teresa.

Baxter carded a 77 at Riverside last Tuesday and came back with a 71 at Santa Teresa on Thursday to finish the 36 hole tourney with an impressive 148.

Mark Roos of Del Mar finished second with rounds of 75 and 78 for a two-day total of 153 and Clark Stockard of Prospect was third with rounds of 80 and 75 for a total of 155.

Campbell's Kevin Tokunaga and Camden's Randy Lowe tied for fifth, Tokunaga coming home at 79-81-160 and Lowe finishing at 84-76-160. But Tokunaga clipped Lowe in a sudden death play-off for fourth place.

The top five individuals in the league and the league champion Wildcats will now advance to the Region III championships, set for Tuesday, May 24, at Riverside.

Dave Hent of Westmont was sixth in the WVLA finals at 80-81-161, finishing a stroke out of the top five, and Steve Beck of Camden and Tom Berkley of Westmont tied for seventh. Beck finished at 81-82 — 163 and Berkley at 86-77-163.

Tony Latos of Leigh was next in line with an 84-80-164 and Nate Dalton of Del Mar and Mike McLaughlin of Westmont were tied for 10th with 165's. Dalton finished at 83-82-165 and McLaughlin ended up 82-83-165.

Los Gatos wrapped up the regular season title with a 7-0 record. Camden, Leigh and Westmont tied for second with 6-2 records and Campbell was fifth at 4-4. Branham was sixth at 3-4 with Prospect seventh at 2-6, Blackford eighth at 1-7 and Del Mar ninth at 0-8.

In a recent regular season match, Leigh knocked off Campbell 20½-3½. Keith Tharp of Leigh nailed medalist honors with a 75.

Pony-Colt fund raiser a success

MATT LAWRENCE and Eric Dallosa topped a field of 65 bowlers who participated in Campbell-Moreland Pony-Colt League's second annual fund-raising Bowlathon at Fiesta Lanes in San Jose.

Lawrence of Straw Hat Pizza Tigers rolled a high game of 167 while Dallosa also had the runner-up high game of 165.

High series awards also went to Bill Roberts (Tigers), 451, and Ken Comee (Service Machine Cardinals), 429. Comee also posted the third highest game of 160.

Others rolling 145 or better were: Rich Okamoto (Wheel Away Cycle A's), 158; Kris Kroening (Fontanetti's Yanks), 154; Bob Straight (Campbell Optimist Mets), 154; Steve McKay (Cards), 152; Roberts, 150-145; Rick Valdez (Yanks), 148, and Matt Ramos (A's), 145.

Top Colt series was recorded by Joe Jones (Royals), 473.

Tony Kephart of the Pony Mets was the top fund-raiser with an intake of more than $100. Dallosa raised just under that mark. Also raising $60 or more were Eric Beyer, Dick Wesendunk, Brett Blackwell and Joe Jones.

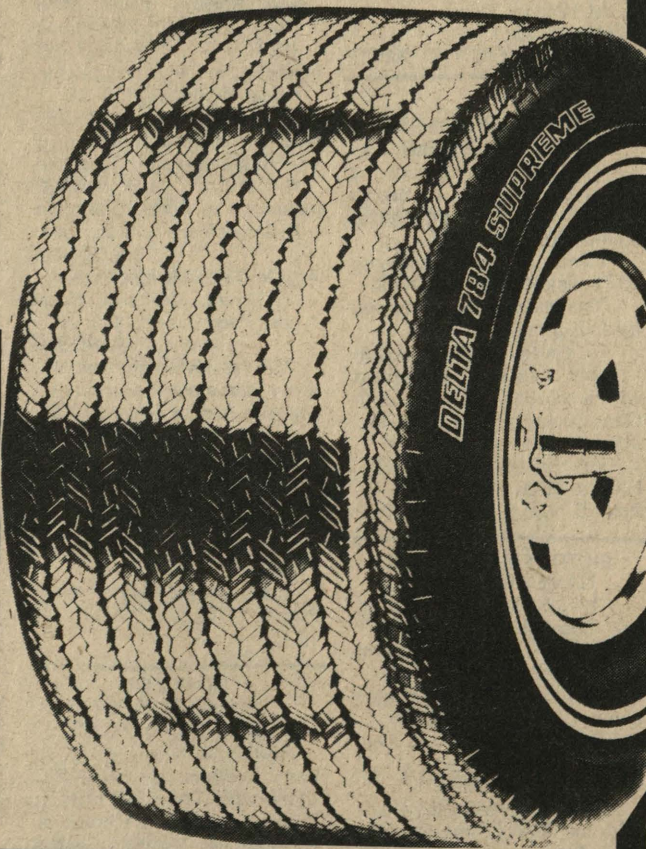

Pony Manager Gene Okamura's Cardinals deserve special recognition for their total team effort. Twelve players raised $332 toward the Bowlathon.
